The revolver shows no evidence of being buffed or polished. All markings are sharp and correct including the inspector markings on the grips. There are some dings on the underside of the grips and the bottom of the grip frame has some light dings. The grooved cylinder pin knob is slightly rough. There is also some roughness along the travel slot of the ejector rod housing. History wise, this revolver is a military gun, its serial number falling between 2 known Artillery models #114208 and #114213. It was made late in 1884 and bears the mark of Captain Frank Heath. The revolver is still in its cavalry configuration, it was never converted to the artillery configuration. Mr. Kopec speculates that it was being stored in a state militia armory during the 1893 conversion period and escaped the modification. According to the factory letter, the revolver was shipped on Jan. 7th 1885. Mr. Kopec speculates that the revolver is inspection stamped 1884 instead of 1885 because the inspector had not yet received his 1885 stamp at the time of shipment. Mechanically, the revolver functions fine. The Colt factory letter and Mr. Kopec's report will be available for review during the preview. Please see the photos to get a better idea of the condition.

Gun Registration Information

All guns with an "R" before the number must be registered. Licensed dealers must have a current copy of their FFL signed in ink in our files. No modern long guns sold to anyone under the age of 18, nor modern hand guns to anyone under 21. No hand guns sold to out of state residents who are not dealers. Residents of states requiring a purchase permit to buy long guns (I.E. New Jersey, etc.) must furnish this permit. Persons of Curio & Relic License (except New Jersey) may only purchase firearms listed as such by the B.A.T.F. and must provide a signed copy of that license. The purchaser pays any and all registration fees.

Your interpretation of "excellent", "very good", "good", etc. may be very different than ours, when it comes to the description of the guns. You are the final judge of condition before you buy. Please examine any item you are interested in very carefully and decide, before you bid, if it is as you expected. Always have a gunsmith check a gun you purchased for possible defects. We do not warrant any gun to be in firing condition. If you see any glaring mistakes in the catalog description of the guns, please inform us of the error prior to the start of the sale. This will allow us to let other buyers know of the correction before any items are sold.

Federal law requires any firearm, made after 1898, to be registered. Even though the gun looks like an antique, we need proof it was made before 1898 before we can give it to you without registration. Since documentation of guns made by many obscure manufacturers is difficult and time consuming, we may, sometimes, incorrectly register a gun that may be an antique. We regret this error but in the case of a Federally licensed dealer, it's better safe than sorry.

Thanks for your consideration and enjoy the auction!
